ITALY WILL ASK THE UNITED STATES FOR CHARLTON

Extradition Proceedings to Have Lake Como Murderer Taken Back.

PRISONER HAS BROKEN DOWN IN HIS PRISON

Condition Today Is Considered Serious by Warden of New Jersey Jail.

ROME, June 27.—The foreign office decided to follow the provisions of the Italian-American extradition conventions and to ask for the extradition of Peter Charlton, leaving it with the American authorities to accept or refuse the request.

With this decision the Lake Como murder case enters the realm of diplomacy and the outcome of the exchange between Rome and Washington will be followed with interest outside Italy.

As soon as it was known here that the confessed slayer was under arrest in the United States, the ministry of justice recognized the unusual situation in which the Italian authorities were placed and referred the whole matter to the foreign office.

PROVIDE FOR EXTRADITION.

Extradition between Italy and the United States is provided for in the conventions of 1868 and 1884 but Italy always has held to the treaty did not cover the case of Italian citizens who had committed crimes in the United States and escaped to their country. In such instances the government has insisted that the accused be tried in the country of their commission.

Should the American state department follow the precedent established by this country and refuse the extradition of Charlton his case would be construed as a recognition of the equity of the Italian interpretation of the extradition conventions, providing of course that the refusal is not based on the grounds that the prisoner is insane or for another reason other than that he is an American citizen.

BREAKS DOWN.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Italy's decision to extradite Peter Charlton, the confessed murderer, is believed here to be likely to hasten a decision on the pending extradition of the young man's mental condition.

Coincidentally with the news from Rome to extradite Charlton, the confessed murderer is confined in the New York state prison at Sing Sing, where he is being held in custody of the young man's mental condition.

His condition today was considered worse than it was when he was taken to the prison, and it is believed that he is now in a state of mental collapse.

Flat Iron Explodes; Woman Badly Burned

While engaged in ironing a small fire from the morning Mrs. Louise Hodgkin, of 1034 Madison street, was severely burned about the hands and face when the flat iron exploded. The police were called and the fire department and after a difficult fight the fire was put out, the body being slightly injured and Mrs. Hodgkin's wounds deep.

Bullet in His Head, Says it Will Stay

DOVER, Del., June 27.—Following hospital operations, Leedman Hower Jr. is improving around in his head a bullet, in preference to going under the probe and knife. The bullet got into Hower's head during an altercation at a dance and Hower, who is a colored man, is alleged to have fired it. The bullet lodged in the middle of the forehead and Hower's skull is still swollen and he is still in the hospital.

ATTORNEY HYNES HAS BODY GUARD

Surrounded by Deputy Sheriffs When Kinard Is Given 10 Years in Jail.

The trial went on according to program. Hynes presented and secured Kinard's conviction but the latter made no move at any stage of the proceedings to carry his threat into execution. When the jury's verdict was returned Judge Ogden remanded Kinard to the County Jail and when assigned there no relation of any kind was found in his possession.

When Kinard was called up for sentence this forenoon, Attorney R. J. Hynes addressed the court and announced that he had been retained by the prisoner to look after his case in the event of an appeal. He then made the usual motion for a new trial, which Judge Ogden promptly overruled and in pronouncing judgment the court said Kinard was one of the most extraordinary cases of embezzlement it had ever seen. He then pronounced judgment of imprisonment for 10 years.

LAWYER ROBBED WOMAN.

The testimony, he said, brought out that while Kinard was acting as a member of the Alameda County Relief Committee at the time of the earthquake, Lamplough went to him for aid for herself and three little children and he helped her, but not before he had learned from one of the women's little girls as she stood in the bread line. The mother had money that was due to her from a life insurance policy. Then Kinard worked himself into the good graces and confidence of Mrs. Lamplough and induced her to give him power of attorney to collect this money and attend to all her business.

FLAYED BY JUDGE.

"Your conduct towards this woman and her helpless little children was brutal in the extreme and showed that you were entirely lacking in moral sentiment," said Judge Ogden. "Even when Mrs. Lamplough went to you and pleaded with you to reimburse her for the sake of her children you brazenly told her she would do as she pleased. In addition to this during the trial of your case you admitted without blushing that you stole the money and tried to get rid of it by the law with the statute of limitation. Throughout the whole transaction your attitude towards the woman was that of a reckless, careless and wanton disregard of the woman's rights. You had the money and intended to keep it. There is absolutely nothing extenuating in your case. I have never tried a man who showed such gross lack of the moral sense of right and justice as you have, and for this reason I feel it a duty I owe to society to deal severely with you."

Kinard gave notice that he would appeal his case, and was then led back to the county jail.

POSTAL ENJOINS BELL TELEPHONE

Alleges Attempt to Repudiate Contract Is Due to Conspiracy With Western Union.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—The Postal Telegraph Company has obtained an injunction against the subsidiary Bell Telephone Company in New Mexico for violation of a contract which the Postal Company made with an independent telephone company last July for five years, by which the Postal company reached a number of towns in New Mexico by an extension of its service from El Paso to Silver City, N. M. That contract still has more than four years to run.

A few weeks ago the New Mexico subsidiary Bell Telephone Company bought out the independent telephone company with which the Postal had this contract, and then the subsidiary company notified the Postal that the contract was repudiated July 1 and connection cut off.

AVIATOR TO DRIVE BIPLANE ACROSS THE BAY

C. M. Vosmer Will Leave Oakland Race Track for San Francisco.

ZEPPELIN AIR LINER
TO FLY ON ATLANTIC

Ballooning Falls 500 Feet and Lives to Tell the Tale.

An attempt to drive a Curtiss biplane from the Oakland race track across the bay to San Francisco will be made by C. M. Vosmer, an aviator of San Francisco, tomorrow or Wednesday. The flight was to have been attempted on Saturday, but during the preliminary tests the right wing of the machine was broken. This is being repaired and it is believed will be ready for the second attempt within a day or two.

Unevenness of ground in the center of the field and the fact that it is covered with long grass, hindered the starting of the biplane and prevented a satisfactory test, and it is possible that the machine may be taken to some other location for its initial flight.

WIFE TO LEARN.
Mrs. Vosmer, the wife of the aviator, is taking a lively interest in the proceedings, and declares her intention of mastering the machine-bird. She hopes to be the first woman to drive an aeroplane on the coast. Other women have ridden as passengers in such machines, but there is no record of a woman having actually driven one here.

The aviator is well known about the bay and has made many balloon ascensions. In 1898 he was nearly killed while making an ascension from the Chutes. At the time he had a leg and several ribs broken and was believed to be dead when picked up.

Mr. Vosmer was at work on the biplane yesterday repairing the broken wing and adjusting the engine.

AID LINER TO FLY.
NEW YORK, June 27.—It is possible that one of the giant Zeppelin air liners, like the craft that made the trip between Friedrichshafen and London, may be put into commission for excursion tours all over the world.

It depends upon the solution of the problem whether an airship is a ship, or whether it can be classified as something else, according to the Hamburg-American steamship line, which is interested in the Zeppelin airship enterprise.

"We have considered the proposition of putting one of the great Zeppelins into commission for air tours between New York and Boston or some other port," said Bous today.

"But before we can make any final arrangements it will be necessary to discover just in what light the American government regards the ships of the air."

CLASSIFICATION.
"The question is simply this: Is an airship a ship or what is it? If it is not classified as any other common carrier on the land and water, will the domestic transportation regulations cover it?"

"The company which controls the Zeppelin excursion liners is a foreign corporation doing business under a German charter. The ship carries the German flag. Under the laws of the country it would not be possible for a foreign corporation to operate airships in this country carrying the German flag, providing the craft of the air is considered the same as the craft of the water."

No ship carrying a foreign flag can do business on the inland waterways, nor do a coastwise trade.

AERONAUT FALLS 500 FEET.
NEW YORK, June 27.—Falling like a rock from a height of 500 feet when his parachute failed to open, George Taylor, a professional balloonist, lives to tell the story, although he is in the hospital at Pottsville, N. J. Physicians expect a speedy recovery.

Taylor and his teammate, Thomas Moore, ascended at Belleville, N. J., in a high wind.

Taylor hit the earth feet first in an open field, where he was picked up unconscious. At the hospital the physicians found him considerably injured. No bones were broken. The other aeronaut descended without a mishap.

Fun Is the Staff of Life but Life Is No Joke, Declares Vesta Victoria

SAME ROOT GIVES FORTH TRAGEDY AND COMEDY

Everybody Is a Child Beneath the Veneer, Says English Actress.

ALL WOULD RATHER LAUGH THAN NOT

"Take My Songs for Instance,"
Chirrup Vivacious
Comedienne.

(By JACK WISHAR.)

"Comedy and tragedy spring from a common root, and the line dividing the two is so delicate that these complex emotions are evenly balanced in the human heart, requiring but a touch to give one the ascendancy over the other," said Vesta Victoria, the dainty English comedienne, sitting in her dressing room at the Orpheum yesterday after her first appearance in Oakland.

"Take my songs as an illustration of this fact," she continued, wiping the makeup from her rosy cheeks. "What could be more sorrowful than the idea of the girl waiting at the church, yet millions of people have laughed at that song as sung by myself and others. The reason is easily found. The touch of humor that even tragedy possesses is brought to the surface, outweighing all other emotions and stifling an answering chord in the hearts of all. It is what you might call the psychology of humor. We are all big children underneath the veneer of age and conventionality, and would rather laugh than not laugh. It is the skillful blending of this tragedy and comedy which turns the so-called tragedy into the most humorous comedy and makes people enjoy themselves."

FUN IS STAFF OF LIFE.

"Fun is the staff of life, and fun is fun the world over. East and west and north and south, in England and America, it is always the same. People like to laugh—like to have the scales of life touched in such a way that humor outweighs all else," and the dainty English actress laughed in her merry fashion. "When you look on life as a joke?" she hazarded.

"By no means," she quickly rejoined. "Life is big and full and real, but why not be merry in place of sorrowful? Why not see the humor when it really exists? Why not laugh and smile rather than cry and put on a long face? Is not that a sounder philosophy than is usually preached? Music and humor blend naturally. They go hand in hand, and neither can resist them. The wonderful stage is an educational institution, and is becoming recognized as such more and more as the years go by, especially in America."

QUICK TO GRASP HUMOR.

"American audiences in a way are not as quick to grasp the humor of a situation as in England. This may sound strange when one thinks of the average Englishman's seeming lack of humor. The truth of the matter, however, is that in America there is such a blending of the races, so many different nationalities, that at times it is hard for them to grasp the humor of a purely English joke, whereas in England, where there is but one tongue, this difficulty is overcome."

"Take, for instance, the song, 'Poor John'—I don't mean poor John Johnson, although I hope Jeffries will win."

"Then you are interested in prize-fighting as well as singing?" I interrupted.

"Not a bit," she replied, "but at the same time I'm willing to put the gloves on with any woman of my weight and I'll wager that I'll prove the winner. I'm something of an expert in that line. Back home, in England, I have fought the gloves on a great deal with my brothers and became quite a scientific boxer."

And the pretty singer flexed her arm to show the muscles that reposed beneath the silk skin.

"That is one manner in which the American women differ from their English cousins," she continued. "The American women are always on the go. They are interested in sports, in clubs, in politics and what not. Of course we have our suffragettes, but the majority of English women are very quiet. I am not disparaging the American women, merely pointing out the difference between the two, and praising the Yankee queens," and she laughed heartily.

HYPONOTISM AND FASCINATION.

When Vesta Victoria laughs you laugh with her. You can't help it. She's hypnotic and fascinating. She throws her weight into the scales of mirth and you forget your troubles. She grips her audiences by the funny bone, as it were, and wrings it until they ache from laughter. She has done this in Europe and the East, and it was the same yesterday when she made her initial appearance in this city. Although she was but one number on an usually good bill at the Orpheum, the dainty comedienne cast all other acts in the shade. She sang herself straight into the hearts of those who filled the big playhouse, and once after encore showed the reluctance of the audience in parting with her. She sang additional numbers until she was forced in self-protection to flee to her dressing room.

AERIAL BALLET.

Another number on the bill which proved attractive was Griselidis' aerial ballet. The fascinating girl, in one of the latest aerial chorus swerves space into the fabric which they represent, while the beauty of the scene is enhanced by doves which circle round and alight on the arms and heads of the pretty girl. The attractive scene is enhanced by the lighting effects which give an ill-like touch to the picture.

Fred Warren and Al Blanchard are two of the best comedians that have appeared at the Orpheum in some time. They were warmly recognized at their first appearance in Oakland yesterday and received many encores which were well deserved. Aside from having good voices, they have a fund of new jokes and humor that is both clean and funny.

Paul Spont, who jokes around balls and allows them to alight on his neck, continues to cause thrills while his neck.

VESTA VICTORIA, who is appearing at the Orpheum this week.

CUTS OUT WORK FOR ROOSEVELT

Senator Bourne Says Ex-President
Must Work for Popular Government.

CHICAGO, June 27.—The position that former President Theodore Roosevelt may take in American affairs was outlined yesterday by United States Senator Jonathan Bourne Jr., of Oregon, who was in Chicago on his way to speak at Peoria on the Oregon plan of electing United States senators.

"I believe that the great issue before the American people will be popular government against delegated government," he said, "and I hope Mr. Roosevelt will take the leadership in the advocacy of general adoption of popular government, in which I mean direct accountability of all public servants to party and general electorate than to irresponsible political machines."

"The people undoubtedly will weigh carefully any ideas he may have to submit. His position in history will depend on how much he has been able to promulgate as on his accomplishments while President."

"The work of this congress is extremely satisfactory, as far as it goes," said Senator Bourne. "In its relative success, it has been more progressive in effort and partial accomplishment than any for several decades."

LAW WILL PROBE BLACKMAIL CASE

Alleged Illegitimate Child May Have Come From Foundling Home.

DENVER, June 27.—Little Villa Beha Martini, whom her mother, while living in poverty in Denver, created a sensation here and in Pittsburgh by declaring the child was the illegitimate daughter of Theodore N. Barnsdall, a millionaire of the latter city, may have been only a foundling taken from an orphan asylum and used for blackmailing purposes. The real history of the case may never be known, for the mother died of alcoholism a few days after she made the announcement, and the child was given by the juvenile court into the custody of the dead woman's mother, Mrs. Sarah E. Holten of San Francisco.

After the lapse of two years this woman has written to Judge Lindsey telling him she no longer wishes to be guardian of the child, as she has positive proof that her daughter was not his mother, but secured the baby from an orphan asylum.

Barnsdall at the time Mrs. Martini made the claim upon him protested that the woman was blackmailing him. He said he had no longer wished to be guardian of the child, as she has positive proof that her daughter was not his mother, but secured the baby from an orphan asylum.

Other numbers on the bill include Franklin and the Standards, booked as the "Living Rubber Balls." They are entitled to the name, doing acts that are worthy recognition at their first appearance in Oakland yesterday and received many encores which were well deserved. Aside from having good voices, they have a fund of new jokes and humor that is both clean and funny.

The bill this week is one of the best that has been staged at the Orpheum in some time.

SOCIALISTS BUILD UP AN IDEAL CITY

Mayor Seidel Declares He Found Machinery / Rusty
and Old.

CHICAGO, June 27.—Building the ground work of an "Ideal Socialist City" was described by Mayor Emil Seidel yesterday as the object of the present socialist administration of Chicago. He addressed an audience of five thousand German-American slingers at "Volkefest" in a local park, speaking in German and closing his address in English.

"The occasion was too a grand demonstration in connection with the fifth annual convention and San Francisco of the German-American Sangbund of the Northwestern states."

"When we came into the city hall at Milwaukee we found the administrative machinery rusty and very and absolutely useless for our purposes," said the socialist mayor. "The heart of public works was a three-headed monster with tentacles reaching into reputation and contractors' offices in all parts of the city."

"When we set about to fill the monster the Republicans and Democrats told me we could not do it. We did nothing, but went ahead and killed it."

"Many are wondering if we have introduced socialism in Chicago. I am frank to confess that we have not, and it probably will be a long time before we shall be able to do so. We are building the ground work for a ideal city for men and women to live in."

Clubman's Eyesight Damaged by Peroxide

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—The eyesight of Walter J. H. Clark, clubman, was threatened last week while he was inspecting property in Nevada, and serious complications were only averted by a hurried trip to the city, where Dr. C. S. McCarthy, an oculist, attended him.

In an attempt to alleviate an irritation Hobart used a solution of peroxide while up in the mountains. The eyes became inflamed and infected and a speedy return was decided on.

While his eyes are now bandaged and he will be forced to wear dark glasses for some days, the danger is passed. A slight infection of the inner tissue of the eyelids was discovered by the specialist, caused by lapar peroxide.

President Taft Guest at Al Fresco Dinner

WASHINGTON, June 27.—President Taft was the guest of honor at an al fresco dinner given at the Country Club last night by Mrs. Richard Townsend, mother of Mrs. Taft's only daughter, New York. The President was in his most jovial mood.

Supper was directed toward Gladman by the discovery that he was suffering from a severely burned foot, and when arrested he admitted that he was responsible for the blaze. The house was partially destroyed.

Gladman admitted that he also caused the fire which damaged the house in which he lived.

"Walking through fire with my feet bare is a pleasure to me," he explained. A lunacy commission will examine the prisoner today.

END OF PUGILISM LEAVES PROBLEM

Rev. George Burlingame Would Find Substitute for Game.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—At the First Baptist church last evening Rev. George E. Burlingame gave as his short talk on town topics, preceding the sermon, a discussion on "The Passing of the Gladiator." He said in part:

The recent action of Governor Gillett, the preacher said, has sounded the death knell of prize-fighting in California. "Numerous arenas and clubrooms," he added, "are on the market, to be disposed of as a bare gain, as the owners are retiring from business. A veritable host of gladiators and embryo contestants for battle honors are wondering how they shall spend their Friday evenings and Sunday afternoons, since there is nothing doing at the Dreamland, and all their club training will profit them nothing for the future."

"The gladiatorial day is ending. The spirit which has demanded and maintained these pernicious affairs is being crushed by the righteous wrath of the people and the fearless initiative of the government. It is the spirit of a 'dying gladiator.'"

"This sudden ebbing of the tide of sporting interests among the young men of San Francisco creates both a problem and an opportunity for those who seek the welfare of our city and who desire to promote the development of a higher type of citizenship and of personal character. Nature abhors a vacuum, and the void will not be long. What is to take the place of pugilism in the minds and in the weekly calendar of these many thousands of young men?"

"Multitudes of these youth are what they are simply because they have been led along one path rather than another, the speaker declared, and then he continued:

"What are we, then, to do for the multitudes of young men deprived of their favorite amusement? And what are we to do for that other host bent upon the gratifying youth who will be men within the decade? Here is the problem created by the death of the prize fight—a problem to which the churches and the schools and the welfare movements of the city must devote their earnest attention."

Accused of Insanity Woman Dies Suddenly

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Only a few short hours after Mary Kaplan, an aged woman of 1100 Silver avenue, had been taken to the detention hospital, awaiting an insanity charge, she was dead. She was removed from the hospital, where she has been for several weeks under the care of Dr. Voorsanger. Her actions there, where she insisted upon sleeping under her bed, attracted attention, and an examination convinced the physicians that she was mentally unbalanced. Although she was suffering from heart trouble, she was forced to restrain her and it was deemed best to prefer an insanity complaint. She would have been examined by the commissioners this morning.

Ray Pickers Strike; New York is Worried

NEW YORK, June 27.—A strike of rag pickers is the latest labor trouble threatening the New York public. Organizers are now forming a union in this trade, according to an income, and a strike for higher wages is contemplated within a few weeks.

"In this trade," the announcement explains, "there are some rag pickers who make contracts for the cuttings at clothing factories and employ men and women to sort them. The people who sort the rags are the worst paid workers to be found anywhere and, in addition to this, the work is unwholesome and by no means healthy. For this reason the pickers, whose union is to be known as the City Sorters' Union, want a union wage scale."

Collie Dog Mourns Death of Lion Cubs

CHICAGO, Ill., June 27.—Within a few hours of each other the three lion cubs in the Lincoln Park zoo died yesterday. Their foster mother, a collie dog, whose puppies died of some mysterious malady, and who has nursed the cubs for the last few days, is distressed and according to Dr. De Vry, head keeper of the Lincoln Park zoo, she misses the cubs more than she did her own puppies. The keeper refused to notice her.

CHINESE TONG WAR CLAIMS 2 MORE VICTIMS

Bloody Vengeance Wrought for the Murder of Beautiful Slave Girl.

YOUNG WOMAN IS FIRST VICTIM OF THE SLAYERS

Romance Began in San Francisco Has a Tragic Ending in New York.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Two Chinamen are dead, a third badly wounded in a hospital and seven Orientals are under arrest as the result of the renewal of hostilities in the never-dying tong war in Chinatown yesterday.

Shu Foo, a Long Island laundryman, was the first victim to succumb to the wounds he received when a fusillade of shots broke loose while the Four Brothers participants were celebrating an anniversary in Pell street, and the On Leong Tong, their rivals, were over the murder recently of one of their number, were gathered in Mott street near by and are said to have raided the arriving banqueters.

The second victim was Sen Jing, in front of whose store at Mott and Pell streets the heaviest shooting occurred Sunday night. Chu Pan, the third man to be struck by the flying bullets, is expected to recover. He is under guard in the hospital.

OUTBREAK UNEXPECTED.

The outbreak was entirely unexpected by the police, who rushed to the scene in time to confine trouble to the immediate locality, and they believe that among the eight men they arrested during the melee they may be able to find some of the strong guards to prevent a renewal of the fight.

The two dead men were members of the Four Brothers and the recent killing of Chon Fook is said to be considered by fellow tong members of the dead man among the On Leongs to have been a quietly avenged.

Immediately after the shooting a large force of police was thrown into Chinatown and today the district is being strongly guarded to prevent a renewal of the warfare.

The fight, so far as the police can learn, was a continuation of the feud between the Four Brothers society and the On Leong Tong, which arose a few months ago as a result of a quarrel over Tong Gum, a little Chinese slave girl. The feud has thus far cost thirty-seven lives.

CHINESE "HELEN OF TROY."

The story of Tong Gum, whose name means "Pearl of Gold," is not unlike that of Helen of Troy. She was stolen from the Four Brothers in San Francisco, brought to New York by a man who sought the protection of the On Leong Tong and was finally murdered by her original owners. The feud spread to Philadelphia, Boston and other cities and took on such an aspect that even the Chinese government through its minister in Washington was moved to intervene, with the hopes of restoring peace.

The story, as told by the police here, begins in San Francisco, where Tong Gum was brought from China by a member of the Four Brothers. Her price had been high in the Orient and her owner refused offers by the whole lot for her. So, she, the girl, could not be acquired by the accepted methods, Chin men, an American Chinese, adopted strategy. He informed one of the American missions that the girl was being held a slave. She was taken into their custody and finally secured her freedom. She made a pretense of marrying her.

BEAUTIFUL SLAVE MURDERED.

With his prize he came to New York, where he became a member of the On Leong Tong. Then suddenly one hot August morning Tong Gum was found in her bed murdered. A long succession of long fights followed, first one organization and then the other scoring its victories. The feud spread to Philadelphia, Boston and to Boston, and in each place there were deaths. According to the police, the number of slain is now almost evenly balanced between the two factions.

Pie Holds Up Train; Dines on the Track

BEVERLY, N. J., June 27.—Just before he was held by the police, a man was in the enjoyment of a big pie into which he was making heavy breads, John Mullin held up a freight train on the Pennsylvania railroad.

The engineer saw the man sitting on the tracks, several yards ahead, and jammed on the air brakes when the fellow simply ignored the warning shrieks of the whistle.

The train halted within a few feet of the hobo and the indignant crew ran to him in angry protest. Mullin ate on with never a word between bites of pie. He was dragged from the tracks and held in the Police Station until he was taken to the county jail. It is his thirteenth trip to the same place from the same office.

It is Mullin's boast that he has laid the "honor" of his district on the justice of the peace in Burlington county.

TAFT AND TEDDY MAY MEET AT CONFERENCE CALLED AT BEVERLY

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., June 27.—There is a persistent buzz of gossip that the most important political gathering of recent months is to be held this week at Beverly, Mass., or near by.

Much weight is placed on three words spoken by Colonel Roosevelt when asked if he expected to see President Taft at Beverly after his visit to Harvard university, he said:

"I don't know."

His manner showed clearly his unwillingness to discuss the question, but he did not deny the possibility.

Governor Hughes' secretary is quoted as having said yesterday that the governor would see Colonel Roosevelt at Cambridge this week. It is thought possible that President Taft, Colonel Roosevelt, and Governor Hughes may hold a conference.

Candidates Invited for Queen Of Admission Day Festivities

MRS. LUKE D. BOLGER, candidate for Queen of Native Sons' celebration.

Mr. Luke D. Bolger, marshal of District No. 100, Native Sons of the Golden West, San Francisco, is the first aspirant for the honor of being "Queen of California" of the Admission Day festival to be held in that city on September 8, 9 and 10.

A dozen and fourteen maids of honor are to be chosen by ballot for the coming festival, the only qualification necessary for candidacy being that the aspirant must show California as her birthplace.

Bidding will commence Saturday, July 9 at noon, and the contest promises to be a spirited one. Entries are now being received at the headquarters of the festival committee, 1950 Phelan building.

VATICAN FORWARDS SPAIN ULTIMATUM

Insists on Withdrawal of Decree of June 11: One Man Killed in a Riot.

MADRID, June 27.—The Vatican's latest note to the Spanish government is regarded as practically an ultimatum. It insists on the withdrawal of the decree of June 11 as a condition precedent to a continuation of the negotiations over the revision of the concordat.

The Republicans and Radicals are organizing throughout Spain counter demonstrations against the Catholic agitation.

SAN SEBASTIAN, June 27.—A religious riot occurred before the quarters of the Basque Club today and shots were exchanged. Municipal guards charged the rioters, killing one man and wounding several others.

BUFFALO, June 27.—Republicans who were making an anti-Catholic demonstration entered the Catholic Club rooms today and looting followed. The police intervened, but before the fight was stopped one man had been killed and many others injured.

'Bat' Nelson on Way to Reno for Big Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Battling Nelson, former lightweight champion, is due to arrive here today from Los Angeles en route to Reno. The Battler takes as much interest in looking at the other fellows go at it as being a principal, and he has practically made the trip west to see the heavyweight fight.

He has been spending a vacation on his ranch at O-bar, N. M., freshening up anticipation of a return match with Al Volgaist.

Nelson plans to leave here for Reno today.

University Graduate Weds in Watsonville

BERKELEY, June 27.—The marriage of Miss Freda Waters and Mr. Roy Warner was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Peter K. Waters, in Watsonville, at 6 o'clock this evening and will be followed by a reception. At the close of the honeymoon, Mr. Warner will take his bride to a home which is being prepared in Linda Vista.

The bride-to-be is well known in Berkeley, making friends in her college career. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. She is a son of Mrs. B. L. Warner of Oakland and is well known in business circles.

Moore Is Sentenced to One Year in Jail

Superior Judge Ogden today sentenced Joseph Moore to serve a year in the county jail for assaulting Matthew Callahan with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder. Callahan is the foreman of a laundry where Moore was employed. They became involved in an altercation during which Moore drew a knife and stabbed Callahan in the abdomen.

Passing sentence Judge Ogden recommended that parole be granted to Moore after he had been in the county jail for a short time.

The names on which these awards were made of the money and some of the tasks which had been unfurnished for more than a year.

OYSTER BAY, June 27.—Theodore Roosevelt spent the early part of the day in an attempt to catch up with the work which is waiting for him. He kept busy at home and busied himself with his correspondence and other tasks which had been unfurnished for more than a year.

HOPE TO RECOVER.

Captain Petersen expects to have Barnard charged today, as he was awaiting word from the Sperry flour people this morning as to the course they wished to take. An investigation is being conducted as to the use that has been made of the money and some of the tasks which had been unfurnished for more than a year.

It is thought that with the aid of the man's family this will be considerable in making up to the company. The heavy loss it has sustained. Experts are now at work on the books untangling the accounts, and making an estimate as to actual amount of the absconding cashier's pecuniaries.

THREE YOUNG BOYS HELD FOR ROBBERY MANY RESIDENCES

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 27.—Many daring burglaries are charged against three young boys, who were caught last night by the police. The boys are now held in the South Side police station.

The boys gave their names as Elmer, George and Francis. They are now held in the South Side police station.

Eight Mt. Washington homes are said by the police to have been entered by the boys during the last three nights, when much valuable booty was taken and hidden away in the dark recesses of an abandoned coal mine just across the Mono gulch from Pittsburgh.

Partly burned candles with which the boys lighted their rendezvous, and some of the things found by the police when they searched the cave. A three-lads are held for the juvenile court.

Geary Street Railroad to Ask a Rehearing

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Attorney W. J. Brobeck, representing the plaintiff in the case of H. G. Elmer vs. the City of San Francisco, announced this morning that he will move at once for a rehearing of the Geary Street Railroad case. Attorney Brobeck is now at work on the papers in the case and they will probably be filed this week.

The decision, filed on Saturday does not become final for thirty days, said Mr. Brobeck. "We will file a petition for a rehearing upon the merits just as soon as we prepare it. The law requires that it be filed within twenty days."

prove that his accounts were at night on his return.

When Barnard failed to return at the appointed hour, Parker notified the police, and a general warning was sent out to the men on duty to keep watch for the absconding cashier. Oakland was fine-combed for him in the hope of discovering his hiding place, and his home in Berkeley was closely watched by the police.

HUNT OF NO AVAIL

An all-day hunt proved of no avail. Late in the evening the word was received that Barnard had rented a room in a secluded portion of Berkeley as a place of concealment, and that he had telephoned to his wife, Sarah, at Berkeley, to reveal his place of refuge, and Captain Petersen detailed Detective James Drew to keep watch at the Barnard home.

While Captain Petersen was engaged in taking a bath last night the word was flashed by Drew to Inspector Charles Beck and from him to Petersen that a man had been seen slipping into the Barnard house at about 10:15. Jumping into his clothes Captain Petersen gathered his men and rushed out to Berkeley. The house was surrounded by the men, and a light was thrown on the entrance of the fugitive.

That the detectives were just in time was learned afterwards, as Barnard had contemplated suicide, and when captured had the revolver in his possession with which he intended to take his own life.

WOMEN AT DOOR.

Captain Petersen and Detective Drew asked for admission, and were confronted by Mrs. Barnard, George Ackerman, a maid, and the mother of the accused man.

"We want to see Mr. Barnard," Petersen said, addressing the man.

"He is not at home," responded Ackerman. He told them that the idea had been their quarry entered the house and meant to make a search. A search was commenced and while it was in progress one of the men surrounding the house saw a dark figure emerge and run on a little veranda at the rear of the house on the second story.

"There's a burglar up there," the officer called.

The man turned and walked straight into the house. He sought Petersen and came directly up to the captain of detectives.

SURRENDERS HIMSELF.

"I'm the man you want," he said. He had in his possession at the time a revolver he had purchased the day before which he intended to use for killing himself. He was taken without parley to the city prison, where lengthy questioning elicited from him the confession of his pecuniaries.

While telling his story last night he showed himself to be nervous, excited, but this morning was considerably calmer. He told a well-connected story of the manner of investing in money he had stolen.

"Mr. Parker never suspected me of anything wrong until last week," he told Captain Petersen. "The first always trust me and until two years ago, when I commenced to falsify my accounts, there had never been a dishonest act to my mind."

PLANNED SUICIDE.

"When I realized that I had been discovered I determined to kill myself rather than become disgraced and imprisoned. I purchased a revolver and went to my home to say farewell to my wife. She cried and begged me not to commit suicide, for her sake and for the sake of our children. I told her that I would stand by me in spite of everything. She said that she would help me out, and that together we would brave the trouble that had come upon me. Finally I promised that I would attempt suicide."

"I realized that I could not avoid detection and arrest in the long run, but chose a little room in Berkeley as a place of temporary concealment. No one would find the thing the way I say. My wife is my only reliance and she says."

HOPE TO RECOVER.

Kara and Juggling Leads Bill Of Headliners at Bell Theater

KARA, the world's greatest juggler, at the Bell Theater.

This week the enterprising management of the Bell Theater presents one of the very best and all around well balanced bills of vaudeville that has come to the State this season. Capacity houses greeted the performers at the three shows of Sunday and the indications are that a record week's business will result. The high class caliber of the show should warrant standing room only for the remaining days of the engagement.

Kara is the headliner. This world-famous juggler begins where the other fellow leaves off and executes a series of stunts that seem in the realm of the impossible. The stereotyped foibles are relegated to the background and as fast as human hands can work the poor of all jugglers keeps the audience in a spell of bewilderment by the character of his feats and the unerring accuracy with which he executes them. His wonderful balancing powers, especially as applied to his very clever trick with the cabinet and billiard balls has never been equaled. There is an element of comedy introduced with the aid of an assistant in water's costume that sends the act along in good shape.

Collego pranks and coarser capers are the gist of the oddity. A skillful artist and exceedingly versatile offering is that given by the Hollsworths, who sing, dance and execute wonderful things with the banjo. Tom Haverly and Evelyn Wells are all to the good in a racy skit in which the talk of the pickpocket and track make up a very clever number. Their work is replete with lively surprises and their eccentric mannerisms are catchy and original. With some of their "gags" are somewhat ancient, they introduce quantities of bright new ones that will add immeasurably to the slang talk of the hour. They prove big winners.

The Strength brothers present a very different equilibrium novelty that is a demonstration of their marvelous muscular powers. It is an extremely sensational offering throughout, no various feats being new to the gymnastic world. Two reels of new motion pictures, the best in months are also shown.

NEW REALTY SYNDICATE BUILDING TO BE RUSHED

Corporation Crowding Architects That Steel May Be Ordered for Addition to Broadway Structure

J. M. Smith's private secretary, Dennis Seales, stated in an interview with a TRIBUNE reporter this morning that he is crowding Woollett & Woollett, the architects of the eight-story addition to the Realty Syndicate building, as forcefully as possible to hurry up with the plans.

"The sooner they are finished," said Mr. Seales, "the better pleased we shall be. We are in a hurry to get construction started," he continued, "and when the architects finish the working drawings and specifications, contracts will be awarded and the building rushed to completion as fast as men and materials can do it."

"The plans for the structural steel to go into the building is what we want first. When these are ready a contract for it will be let for delivery on the premises in the quickest time possible. I have the strongest hopes that the steel contract will be let within sixty days. Then you will see something doing."

TO BE BEAUTIFUL.

"The building when finished, according to the accepted elevation of the architects, will, I am satisfied, be regarded by every one as one of the most beautiful and attractive buildings on the coast. The mellow cream-colored Roman brick walls will set off the severity and plainness of its lines, for we studiously avoided the introduction of all ornamental terra cotta tiling which has been employed on so many of the big buildings in San Francisco, and which is only so much material that is liable to be shaken off by the first heavy earthquake shock that may come along and set down on the heads of people in the street below."

I have carefully examined all of the large buildings erected in San Francisco since the two and the more beautiful buildings are those which, like the new Palace Hotel, are free from the terra cotta excesses, and simple and elate in design, pleasing to the eye, even though they are severe in their lines.

USELESS ORNAMENTS.

"One of the hardest things we have experienced," continued Mr. Seales, "was to keep out of the structure these useless terra cotta ornaments which add materially to the cost without contributing anything to the real beauty of the building. The drawing of the building which the architects made for THE TRIBUNE gives but a faint conception of what it will really look like and the beauty of its soft cream-colored exterior when built. I am impatient to get actual work on the building started, and the sooner the architects get through with the preparation of the detailed plans the sooner construction will begin. Once started it will be pushed as rapidly as possible to completion."

FIRE DESTROYS BUILDING, CAUSING $10,000 LOSS

Big Structure at Sixth and Clay Streets, Containing Flats and Stores, Guffed

Fire that broke out in the building at Sixth and Clay streets, this afternoon at half past three, gained great headway before the firemen could arrive on the scene, and in ten minutes had threatened to destroy the entire block.

The firemen had great difficulty in fighting the flames, the fire being "blind." Great clouds of smoke rose over the buildings at the corner, and carried by a light wind, was wafted towards the business section of the city, causing much alarm among the merchants.

Despite the efforts of the firemen the flames spread and twenty minutes after the alarm was given it looked as if the entire block would go.

Joseph Stangfield, who with his family and two roomers, were living at 818 Clay street, noticed the smoke. Before he could turn in an alarm the flames had broken through the floor.

Chief Bell was almost killed during the progress of the fire when, while walking along Clay street, a large window fell out, the heavy sash narrowly missing his head.

Evidence at the trial showed that McMahon and Sam Ashby discussed suicide while drinking together and each agreed to commit the act. Ashby shot himself in the head and died. McMahon hadn't the nerve to carry out his part of the deal.

Two victims of the fire were the late McMahon and Sam Ashby, who were living in the building. McMahon was a well-known figure in the underworld and was known for his involvement in various crimes. Ashby was a close associate of McMahon and was also involved in criminal activities. The fire destroyed their home and any evidence that might have been used against them.

I have carefully examined all of the large buildings erected in San Francisco since the two and the more beautiful buildings are those which, like the new Palace Hotel, are free from the terra cotta excesses, and simple and elate in design, pleasing to the eye, even though they are severe in their lines.

USELESS ORNAMENTS.

"One of the hardest things we have experienced," continued Mr. Seales, "was to keep out of the structure these useless terra cotta ornaments which add materially to the cost without contributing anything to the real beauty of the building. The drawing of the building which the architects made for THE TRIBUNE gives but a faint conception of what it will really look like and the beauty of its soft cream-colored exterior when built. I am impatient to get actual work on the building started, and the sooner the architects get through with the preparation of the detailed plans the sooner construction will begin. Once started it will be pushed as rapidly as possible to completion."

FIRE DESTROYS BUILDING, CAUSING $10,000 LOSS

Big Structure at Sixth and Clay Streets, Containing Flats and Stores, Guffed

Fire that broke out in the building at Sixth and Clay streets, this afternoon at half past three, gained great headway before the firemen could arrive on the scene, and in ten minutes had threatened to destroy the entire block.

The firemen had great difficulty in fighting the flames, the fire being "blind." Great clouds of smoke rose over the buildings at the corner, and carried by a light wind, was wafted towards the business section of the city, causing much alarm among the merchants.

Despite the efforts of the firemen the flames spread and twenty minutes after the alarm was given it looked as if the entire block would go.

Joseph Stangfield, who with his family and two roomers, were living at 818 Clay street, noticed the smoke. Before he could turn in an alarm the flames had broken through the floor.

Chief Bell was almost killed during the progress of the fire when, while walking along Clay street, a large window fell out, the heavy sash narrowly missing his head.

Evidence at the trial showed that McMahon and Sam Ashby discussed suicide while drinking together and each agreed to commit the act. Ashby shot himself in the head and died. McMahon hadn't the nerve to carry out his part of the deal.

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

Contagious Blood Poison is the most powerful and destructive of all blood disorders. It corrupts and vitiates the entire circulation and manifests itself in the most hateful and loathsome symptoms, such as ulcerated mouth and throat, copper-colored spots, and even sores and ulcers on different parts of the body. The poison causes the hair and eyebrows to fall out, and sometimes the finger nails come off and the entire glandular system is attacked. No medicine can cure Contagious Blood Poison unless it is first rid the circulation of every particle of the insidious virus. The least taint left in the blood will break out afresh, when treatment is left off. S.S.S. is the real and certain cure; it goes into the blood and by removing every particle of the poison, and adding rich, healthy qualities to the circulation, forever cures this powerful disease. All who suffer with Contagious Blood Poison may cure themselves in the privacy of their own homes by using S.S.S., and following instructions contained in our Home Treatment Book, which which we will send, together with any medical advice desired, free to all who write.

TWO CHILDREN ARE KILLED BY WAGON

Girl, Three Years Old, Run Over by Heavy Truck and Killed.

PARENTS OBTAIN NAME OF VEHICLE DRIVER

Small Boy Knocked Down by Recklessness, and Dies Soon After.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—The killing of Morris Saltzman of 288 Clementina street, the four-year-old lad, by a man in a heavy truck, was not the only child tragedy of the day, but it was not until this morning that it was learned that Edith Bonehead, three years and nine months old, who was with an almost similar accident, had passed away at 1:15 this morning at her home, 3170 Sixteenth street.

It was 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the little girl was playing on Dehon street, between Sixteenth and Seventeenth, when she was run over by a heavy truck, which her parents say was driven by Lawrence Newport. She was carried into her home and physicians were called to attend her. Her little body, however, was so badly crushed by the heavy vehicle that there was no hope of saving her life.

POLICE ARE NOTIFIED.

The police were not notified of the affair until the deputy coroner had made an investigation this morning and notified the Mission police station. The parents obtained the name of the teamster and an officer was sent out to try and locate him.

Embryo Teachers Study Pupils in Play Hours

LARGE PLAYGROUND THROWN OPEN TO THE CHILDREN

California Field Presents Scene of Joyous Activity and Pleasure.

HUNDREDS OF CHILDREN PRESENT AT OPENING

Practical Demonstration of Methods and Games for Teachers and Others.

BERKELEY, June 27.—California field at the University of California presented a pretty spectacle this afternoon when hundreds of children assembled from all parts of the city to witness the opening of the new playground. The scene was one of joyous activity and pleasure.

Children of all ages were there, from the kindergarten toddlers playing in sand boxes, to the high school girls engaged in strenuous games of basketball. There was something for everyone to do and the very spirit of play seemed incarnated in the surging, rushing, laughing crowd of happy children.

PRACTICAL ASPECT.

This playground is intended as a practical working field for the students taking the playground course at the University summer session. Here is where the future playground directors will develop their ability as trained play leaders.

The playground course is a very popular, the classes being so large that special arrangements have been necessary to enable the students to obtain their practical participation in the large number of games that the course offers. The morning hours are devoted to theoretical courses in playground administration, planning and function of play and the practical courses of playground games and folk dances.

THEORETICAL COURSE.

The theoretical course is designed to give a more thorough understanding of the child-life and the laws of nature, which is essential to the successful playground director, and the practical side of playground management, the control of grounds, the various special duties of supervisors, teachers and assistants on the playground.

The practical course of playground games is given in actual use on city playgrounds, ranging from the simple circle game to the organized team games such as basketball, football, relay, and capital ball, etc.

The folk dance course of European dances that are adaptable to playground needs is a joyful form of healthful and rhythmic exercise.

Professor W. C. Morgan of the department of chemistry of the University has had entire charge of the installation of the playground and will remain in control of its details during the summer session.

All equipments were made on the ground and are inexpensive in character, the entire construction of grounds demonstrating the economy of play grounds can be constructed without expenditure of large sums of money.

GHOST RAPS COP WITH BIG STICK

Policeman Connelley Is Mystified Over Happenings on Beat.

Mysterious happenings on the "beat" of Policeman Connelley last night are puzzling that officer with the problem as to whether or not he is being haunted. He was assisted in investigating the manner by a posse of police, but discovered nothing to clear up the mystery.

While passing a drug store at Milton street and San Pablo avenue he was startled to see in the dim light a dark form rise in front of him and Connelley followed him into a small alley which ended in a blank wall. He turned to a fence on one side, placed his hand on the top with a view of watching over him, when his hand was struck heavily with some metal instrument, inflicting a deep flesh wound and cutting away considerable skin from the index finger.

CALLS OUT POSSE.

Without hesitation the officer cleared the fence and made a thorough search of the place, finding no sign of the presence of his assailant. After making the rounds of the drug store again, he put in a call, and was assisted in searching the neighborhood by a posse from the corner station.

No trace was found of the mysterious assailant of Connelley. None of the buildings had been entered, and the police had no indication that any attempt at burglary had been made. Although a policeman kept watch through the remaining hours of darkness, the hiding place of the midnight visitor has not been found. Connelley is inclined to the belief that there are "pooks" on his beat, but his crushed hand suggests that they must be unusually powerful ghosts.

SILVERADO TO ENJOY AN OUTING

Two Hundred Members Will Journey to King's River Canyon.

BERKELEY, June 27.—More than fifty members of the Sierra Club who are in the city are making preparations for the annual outing of the organization which will take place this year in the Kings river canyon and the rugged Sierra Nevada mountains of that stream. The start will be made on Thursday afternoon, June 30, in a special Pullman train at 4 o'clock from the Oakland mole.

More than two hundred members of this club will be taking part in the outing. The party will be made up of the largest camping parties ever taken into the Sierras. The personnel of the club is composed largely of professional men, university graduates and teachers residing in the bay region. At the present time the membership of the organization is over one thousand.

The party will proceed to Visalia by special train and from there make a stage journey of one day will be made to Quail Flat, a two-mile walk will bring the members to Woodcock meadows, where the first camp will be pitched. The next day the party will be taken to the Kings river canyon, where permanent camp will be established at the junction of Copper creek.

From this main camp, excursions will be taken to the many points of interest in the vicinity. This section of the Sierra is the most grand and rugged in the bay region. The features are Mt. Brewer, University peak, Kearsage pass, Bryans and Charlotte lakes, Vidette meadows, Rae lake and Pin dome. Many of the lakes will be reached by the party on horseback, while others will be reached by the party on foot. The party will spend the days in whipping the streams for trout and studying the flora of the region. A knapsack trip will be taken to Mount Whitney, the highest peak of the United States, 14,502 feet in elevation. The party will leave the canyon in time to reach San Francisco about the first of August.

Among the Berkeleyans who will enjoy the outing are Mr. and Mrs. William E. Coley, Professor and Mrs. Joseph N. Le Conte, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Parsons, Mrs. Frederic Torrey, Miss Anita Gomez, Miss Nina Thomas, Miss Edna Potwin and Miss Leslie Potwin.

POLICE AT BIER OF AGED WOMAN

Mother of Popular Officer Is Laid to Rest With Honor.

A large number of Oakland police attended the funeral of Mrs. T. J. Gardner, who has been a member of the force for the past 14 years, and is well known in the central part of Oakland. Mrs. Gardner was an old resident of Oakland, having lived here for many years. She was 78 years of age and a native of the West Indies. Her father was a captain in the British army under Wellington.

Mrs. Gardner died last Friday at her home in Berkeley. She was buried at Mount View cemetery this morning. A beautiful floral piece was sent by the local police department, and Inspector Lord and a number of the members of the force were present. A floral piece was also sent by the Order of the Eastern Star, of which she was a member. She is survived by four sons and a daughter. The family home is at 1815 Valdez street in this city.

Bradbury's Freedom Hovering in Sight

SAN RAFAEL, June 27.—William R. Bradbury, Corte Madera millionaire, serving a year's sentence for perjury, committed in connection with the purchase of the San Francisco cable car, will be discharged from San Quentin next Saturday. At the time of his conviction Bradbury made a hard fight against the verdict and much pressure was brought upon Governor Gillett to grant a pardon, but after much delay the sentence was put into execution. Though 78 years old, thin and in poor health, Bradbury endured the same conditions that are set forth for all convicts, with a beneficial result. He has regained his lost weight and his health is now better than it has been for many years.

Thrift of Money Reported to Police

ALAMEDA, June 27.—The theft of $18 from James Taylor, who lives at 1215 Beach street, was reported to the police today by Taylor, who says that the money was taken from his pockets last night while he was asleep. Taylor formerly employed in the James P. Taylor coal yard in Oakland.

Patriotic Societies at Methodist Church

ALAMEDA, June 27.—Rev. Willard M. Martin, pastor of the First Methodist church, has issued written invitations to a patriotic service to be held at the church on the evening of July 2. City officials and others received invitations to the services today.

Precious Stones Imported in 1909 Worth $45,000,000

NEW YORK, June 27.—Imports of precious stones as reported by the New York customs officials for this month have sent the total for the fiscal year ending June 30 above $45,000,000. The highest prior record was $43,012,470, for the year 1907.

About 85 per cent of the imports are diamonds, one-third of these being cut. Although the number of diamond cutters and polishers in New York is less than 500, the diamonds they finish are of as much value as those cut by several thousands of European workmen. The reason being that the American workmen handle only stones of larger size and of better grade.

Portuguese Societies Observe Anniversary

The San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad company has announced the appointment of Douglas White as industrial agent of the company, with headquarters in the Pacific Electric building, Los Angeles.

OFFICIALS WANT CONTRACT CHANGED

City Attorney of Alameda Says Bay Cities Water Contract Is Lacking.

ALAMEDA, June 27.—A meeting which was held this morning at the city hall between Mayor V. H. Noy, City Attorney M. W. Simpson and President W. S. Tevis and the officials of the Bay Cities Water Company for the purpose of discussing the water contract being circulated in this city by the Bay Cities company, has been postponed until Wednesday afternoon at the request of President Tevis, who was called to Santa Barbara this morning.

Mayor Noy, City Attorney Simpson and Assistant Chief Engineer C. E. Gilman conferred this morning in regard to the contract. That the contract should contain a clause agreeing to install a water system in the city and bring a supply here as soon as the company is guaranteed a sufficient number of contracts, is the opinion of City Attorney Simpson, at whose suggestion the water meeting will be called.

"The contract should be more definite in certain particulars," he said today. "The agreement which the Bay Cities company is circulating in this city for signers does not stipulate that the water that will be sold to the residents is any different from the existing source, and does not contain any clause agreeing to install the system and bring a supply here after a certain quantity of water is contracted for. We feel confident that the officials of the company will insert these necessary clauses, which will safeguard the public, without any argument."

The attorneys for the Bay Cities company will be present at the meeting Wednesday afternoon. Engineer Gilman and Mayor Noy went over a few contented points in the contract this morning in order that Gilman may be able to take the matter up with President Tevis before Wednesday afternoon's meeting.

MARRIED 3 YEARS, KNOWS NOT NAME

Woman Amazes Attorney By Confessing Ignorance of Husband's Name

"What's your husband's first name?" demanded Prosecuting Attorney Hennessey of Mary Walters, who was brought to court yesterday on a warrant for the arrest of W. M. Walters for failure to provide for their minor child, Fred.

"What's your husband's name?" asked the attorney. "I don't know your husband's given name, and we have lived with him three years," thundered the attorney.

"Well, you see, I never saw him write it," she said.

The case puzzled Hennessey, and after some further parley, a reference was made to the police where Walters was found. It was found that W. M. Walters was the extent of the official records.

Walters, who resides at 65 Seventh street, was arraigned for failure to provide this morning in Judge Samuels' court, the case being set for a preliminary hearing July 7.

APPEAL TO SUPERVISORS IN WHITE PLAGUE FIGHT

Merchants and Citizens Write Views on Extension of Hospital to Better Help Those Afflicted With Consumption

Citizens and business men of Oakland, Alameda county, supplemented the efforts of the Alameda County Society for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, this morning, for the purpose of affording better accommodations for the tuberculosis patients at the county infirmary.

The supplementing was done by a series of letters, all of which were filed and will be given later proper consideration. The first of these was from Kenneth A. Milliken, president of the infirmary in question, and was as follows:

"Without your attention has been called to an article published in THE TRIBUNE, June 19, respecting conditions as they now exist in the tuberculosis department of the county infirmary.

"The investigation that was made was done in justice to the general community. Speaking personally, I went there with the determination to find out for this society whether various statements made relative to the administration and equipment of the institution were true or false.

"It is pleasing to me to be able to say, with the utmost sincerity, that the majority of these complaints were not well founded, while on the other hand, certain conditions which are not right, exist.

"My report of these conditions as published in THE TRIBUNE is correct. On behalf of this society, and from the standpoint solely of humanitarianism, I am going to ask your board to give serious consideration to those defects which have been made public.

"With these conditions, Supervisor Bridge is now as well acquainted as I, and the conditions which I made were acknowledged to be well founded by Dr. Clark, also. I cannot too strongly express my appreciation for the friendly manner in which both Mr. Bridge and Dr. Clark accepted my inspection and the conditions which they displayed in conditions existing in the institution. As a matter of fact, so much can be done to make this a model tuberculosis camp, with so slight an expenditure, that as an investment, your board will never regret making such provision as it required to place Alameda county in an enviable position as to its stewardship over the county's indigent tuberculosis patients.

"I wish it to be distinctly understood that the society's attitude is not one of 'carping criticism' in whatsoever manner your board may choose to interpret the influence of the society, so that public opinion may be moulded to uphold your stand. I believe that in placing this before you as I have done, an all-around, unprejudiced and without bias—'am I wrong?' it is in the hands of men who will do what decency demands in the face of so serious a problem as is tuberculosis today."

PHYSICIAN'S OPINION.
The next was from Dr. R. A. Archibald, representing the Oakland Board of Health as follows:

"The nature of the great and growing necessity for proper hospital facilities for the care of indigent tubercular people, I take the liberty of addressing your honorable board for the purpose of respectfully requesting your favorable consideration of this subject matter.

"While there is no doubt that Dr. Clark of the County Infirmary has worked very hard and long, and under very difficult conditions, it is admitted that present conditions at our county infirmary, far from adequate to permit tubercular patients to receive the proper kind of care and attention that such patients should receive at the hands of a modern civilized community.

"Adequate facilities for the housing and nursing of tubercular patients should be generously provided for by a special appropriation for the coming year. This should be, comparatively speaking, an easy matter of accomplishment, owing to the fact that no great expenditure of money is involved.

CAN BE CURED.
"Under our present knowledge of the cause and treatment of tubercular individuals, a large percentage of such cases can be cured or at least relieved, and in view of such knowledge, it is certainly the duty of every community to give those who, through adversity and sickness, have been placed under our care and for whom we have through unavoidable circumstances become responsible, serious and earnest consideration.

"The great necessity at the present time is a sufficient supply of tent houses and a larger nursing force, so that those who are practically helpless, either mentally or physically, may receive proper attention.

"Trusting the exigency in this regard will receive favorable consideration at your hands, I have the honor to be, etc."

Communications on the same subject received from business men in this city, among them being those from Kahn Brothers, C. J. Heesman and Smith Brothers, the stationers. The letter from Kahn Brothers, dated June 27, and the board made preparations for the new fiscal year, it gave careful consideration to indigent patients and closed as follows:

"We understand that the conditions of the dining-room, the employment of additional help and the suggestion of the board system for the care of the patients, the most necessary improvements as suggested by Dr. W. A. Clark, your resident physician, will be given the most careful and thoughtful consideration in this matter and thereby benefit the general community."

Smith Brothers, among other things said:

"We understand, you desire an expression of the community as to their opinion towards the erection or maintenance of a hospital for the care of the afflicted with this terrible disease, we as individuals, would ask your honorable board to make as large an appropriation for the care of those sick people as it is possible."

NEW METHODS.
"We believe that the new and modern treatment accorded Louis Pasteur for the white plague will eventually succeed in stamping out this dreaded evil. Trusting you will be able to appropriate a considerable sum to this good cause, etc."

"C. J. Heesman concluded his letter as follows:

"It would appear to be essential that your honorable board take some steps to improve the conditions of the patients, which I believe Dr. Clark, your medical supervisor, has already indicated. I take the liberty of urging you in this matter, assuming you will find it necessary to make as large an appropriation for the care of those sick people as it is possible."

The Situation as Regards Hughes.

It is stated by an Examiner special that Governor Hughes will not again be a candidate for Governor of New York, but will take the position on the Federal Supreme Bench to which President Taft appointed him. This is not surprising news. Having been confirmed by the Senate and signified that he would accept, it would be surprising if Governor Hughes should now decline the judgeship to remain in politics.

It has been asserted, on how good authority we cannot say, that former President Roosevelt has been urging the Governor to decline the judicial appointment and make another race for Governor. Roosevelt, so the story goes, believes the political situation in New York to be desperate, and looks upon Hughes as the only man who can save the State to the Republican party in the November election. It is alleged that he regards Republican success in New York so essential that he went to the extent of urging Hughes to give up a place on the highest tribunal in the world.

Possibly this is true, but it may well be doubted. The political situation in New York may not be so desperate as represented, and it is possible that Mr. Roosevelt's views are misrepresented, or that he is mistaken. Possibly he has not felt called upon to decide who shall head the Republican ticket in New York. Perhaps he has not been able, on such short notice, to size up the political situation in the Empire State.

For Governor Hughes to be again a candidate for Governor would, under the circumstances, raise an interesting question regarding the Presidential succession. It is well known that the gubernatorial office is distasteful to him. He has made an impressive and capable executive, but it has been at the sacrifice of his personal inclinations that he accepted a second term. He prefers a judicial career, for which his temperament, talents and training so eminently fit him. Should he now change his plans and seek another gubernatorial term it would be said that he has a still more glittering prize in view.

If elected Governor of New York for a third term, he would naturally be the most available Republican candidate for President in 1912—provided President Taft should decide to retire at the close of his present term. Running for Governor at Roosevelt's solicitation, he would appear as the personal candidate of the ex-President, and would, if nominated to the Presidency, be the Roosevelt candidate. Roosevelt selected Taft as his successor and for Hughes to become a Presidential candidate under the conditions outlined would, by implication at least, place Roosevelt in the attitude of selecting Taft's successor. It is perfectly reasonable to assume that Hughes has his eye on the Presidency in case he declines the proffer of a seat on the Supreme Bench to run once more for an office for which he has no liking. Hence his campaign for Governor would be made as a prospective candidate—a Roosevelt candidate—for President. We doubt if it would improve the Republican situation in the country for the impression to go abroad that Mr. Roosevelt had, the moment he returned to the United States, begun to intrigue to place again a candidate of his own selection in the White House.

Last week Oakland led all Pacific Coast cities in increase of bank clearings. But that has got to be a regular thing.

The Desertion of the Poor Rich.

The threat of Eugene Zimmerman, the Cincinnati railroad magnate, to forswear his American birthright and become a British subject in case Roosevelt is again elected President is not alarming. There is small likelihood that Roosevelt will ever be again a candidate for President; every indication points the other way, and the ex-President's former utterances and present reticence negative the idea that he cherishes any design of breaking the precedent established by Washington. But if Mr. Zimmerman desires to expatriate himself the mourning will be neither long nor loud. He has married his daughter to a peerless British nobleman and the great fortune he amassed in the United States is being squandered in Europe. If Mr. Zimmerman should also throw himself away on the Old World there will be small cause for complaint on this side of the water.

It has become the fashion for men who have amassed or inherited enormous wealth in this country to complain about the laws which they are required to obey, or find fault with the people for being too democratic and too unreverential in their attitude toward the possessors of riches. William Waldorf Astor abandoned the United States because the voters of New York refused to send him to Congress; but he draws his income from a vast estate in New York. His grandfather came to America with a peddler's pack on his back, and the opportunities afforded him here enabled him to become the richest man in the Republic. He was a peasant in Europe. His grandson forsook the country to which he and his family owe so much because he was not accorded special honor and privilege on account of his wealth.

Eugene Zimmerman rose from comparative poverty to affluence in America. With the acquisition of great wealth came the vision that he was entitled to a consideration not bestowed on the ordinary citizen. He felt himself an aristocrat. He has been ennobled by the marriage of his daughter, and thinks there should be a caste in this country divided by gold. He forgets the ancestry from which he sprang, and is ungrateful to the land that opened to him the door to riches.

If he wants to become a British subject let him go. This country can spare him and all like him. American institutions derive no support from men of his stamp; they were not founded by the Astors and the Zimmermans. They came after the American people had achieved their independence and after capitalizing the magnificent opportunities afforded here their ambition is to enroll themselves among the privileged class of Europe—to return as rich aristocrats to the land whence they came as poor peasants. Apparently they have never learned the meaning of democracy nor grasped the fundamental principle on which this Republic was founded. Through successive generations the groveling ambition of the despised peasant to ride, clothed in fine raiment, in the carriages of the rich has clung to them. They represent the type that when poor fawns on the rich and when rich spurns the poor. The soul of the pauper animates them whether the body be clothed in rags or satin.

"Throw overboard the political Jonahs!" exclaims William R. Hearst in a New York World interview. Out this way the Jonahs already overboard have organized to seize the political ship and make all on board walk the plank.

Congressman Knowland finally wriggled out of Congress $180,000 to build a postoffice in Berkeley. His success should be gratifying the people of the University town. A thirty-foot channel for Oakland harbor is a plum he brings home for the people of this city and Alameda.

A fortune awaits some genius who will invent a new method for marking clothes sent to the laundry—a washable, removable tag, or something of the sort. The present system is unsightly and ruinous. Nothing is spared from the damiest dolly to the kitchen towel. In fact, the finest fabrics do not escape the hieroglyphics of the marker's stencil, pencil, or whatever device he uses in this decorative work.

The steel industry is today at every point under the strictest chemical control. An eminent authority estimates that the Bessemer process alone added, directly and indirectly, $2,000,000,000 yearly to the world's wealth. Chemical processes of making madder and indigo color have changed the face of these industries. One-half of the entire consumption of indigo is now produced in German chemical plants.

Ultramarine is now furnished by electrolysis at half the price of copper, whereas the form of lapis lazuli, in the days of Lebig, it was dearer than gold.

It has been the practice of some merchants in naming their staples to lend their own names, spelled backward, or to twist around some other name that might make a catchy trade mark with the first last and the last first. One of these constructive merchants was a cigar dealer with a sense of humor. He had a brand of cigar that needed some kind of selling stimulus. He named it "Nomet," which was quite a euphonious name for a five cent weed. But one day a customer reversed the spelling and learned that "Nomet" was "Nemon." Having indulged his humor, the dealer struck on a new name that could stand analysis.—New York Tribune.

Leaders in the Young Men's Christian Association of Chicago have started a movement that they hope will result in every boy and girl in the public schools learning to swim. They have offered through one of the branch associations to teach all the pupils in eight North Side schools how to take care of themselves in the water. From this beginning it is expected that the instruction will be extended to all schools. "The need of instruction in swimming is demonstrated by the fact that over four thousand men and boys in the United States and Canada are accidentally drowned each year, and the records show that most of these persons could not swim," says one of the Young Men's Christian Association teachers.—New York Tribune.

Sisters Made 'Old Glory'

What became of the first flag made by Mrs. Ross is not known, but in the National Museum at Washington is the first American flag ever hoisted over a ship of war. It was made in Philadelphia by the Misses Mary and Sarah Austin, who failed to put the thirteen stars on the field of blue according to the original design. This flag was unfurled by the famous Paul Jones.

It was presented to President McKinley by Mrs. R. P. Stafford, a lineal descendant of Bayard Stafford, a young officer who served in the Bon Homme Richard and the Terespin when Jones commanded. He saved the flag at the risk of his own life, and later Capt. Paul Jones presented it to him. The flag was named "Old Glory" in 1831 by William Driver, a skipper, hailing from Salem, Mass., and captain of the brig Charles I. Oggett, just before leaving Salem for the Southern Pacific ocean, a young man presented Capt. Driver with a large and beautifully made American flag. When it was sent aloft the captain christened it "Old Glory."

After retiring from active life Capt. Driver settled in Nashville, Tenn., in 1837, and the flag, which had accompanied him to the Pacific, was displayed from the window of his home. At the beginning of the Civil war it was fired upon. Then it was kept out of sight until Feb. 27, 1862, when Gen. Nelson appeared at Nashville with a division of the Union army. Capt. Driver presented the flag to the General, to be hoisted on the Capitol.

After the war the original "Old Glory" was carefully treasured. And on the death of the captain in March, 1885, the flag was presented by the compiler of the "Driver Memoir" to the Essex Institute, at Salem, Mass., where it is now securely kept.

World's Stamp Menagerie

Many of the different stamps of the different countries bear pictures of animals. Arranging the stamps according to the design they bear the philatelist can gather a considerable menagerie.

The three cent Canadian stamp of 1851 bears a beaver. Newfoundland issues of 1856 have the seal and the codfish. The seal on these stamps is, however, a queer creature for a museum of freaks, inasmuch as he had claws like a tiger. In 1880 the government had the seals redrawn with flippers. In 1887 the Newfoundland dog appears on the half cent stamp.

In the United States in 1869 the horse was printed in brown on the two cent stamp, and in the Omaha issue, the year of the fair, appeared two more animals, the bull and the buffalo.

In the eastern hemisphere the animal stamps are more numerous and strange. China furnishes a fish, a seagull and a dragon. Across the Indian ocean, in the Congo Free State, one finds the elephant on the one franc stamp. Liberia furnishes the hippopotamus on the two cent stamp.

On the stamps of Nassa there is depicted the spotted giraffe. In Egypt there is utilized for the Soudanese stamps the camel, and in the French Congo the designs embrace a picture of the leopard.

The stamps of North Borneo afford four more animal specimens—the deer, the peacock, the crocodile and the monkey.

The New South Wales stamps show beasts and birds peculiar to that part of the world—the kangaroo on the one shilling stamps, and the emu and the lyre bird. In New Zealand the stamps show the sacred hula bird. The picture of the duckbill, half bird, half animal, decorated some of the stamps of Tasmania, and the black swan found a place on the stamps of Western Australia.

The Seychelle Islands show stamps bearing a picture of a turtle. In Persia the llama is used. In Guatemala a quetzal, a queer sort of a bird that does not live in captivity, is produced on the stamp as an emblem of national freedom. In Colombia the baki eagle is shown, it likewise being used by France for the stamps of certain of its colonies.

The lion is favored for the Persian stamps, and in the early issues of the stamps of Tuscany the king of beasts was also shown.

JEFFRIES SAYS THAT HE WILL WIN QUICKLY IF POSSIBLE

Money or No Money,
Jeff Wants Victory
Quickly as Possible

Declines Tentative Offer of Moving Picture People Seeking to Guard Against Possible Ending of Battle With One Punch

Cinematograph People Fail to Get Assurance That the Grizzly Will Let the Fight Last Several Rounds if He Can

By EDDIE SMITH.

TRIBUNE HEADQUARTERS, RENO, Nev., June 27.—The desire of Jim Jeffries to defeat Jack Johnson, the colored heavy weight champion, was never better shown than by this statement made by him to the people who have been negotiating for the rights of the fighters in the moving pictures:

"Money or no money, pictures or no pictures, the contest will be ended with the first punch I can deliver, if I can win that quick," said Jeffries. "I will beat Johnson quicker than I did Munroe if I can. I want to win this fight and win it quick if I can, and there is nothing in the world that would cause me to let Johnson stay one minute if I could beat him sooner."

Jeff Explains His Aims.

The statement was made during the negotiations with Jeffries and Rickard for the purchase of the rights to the fight pictures. William T. Rock was seeking information in the Jeffries camps as to how the retired champion would make his fight. He had bid $75,000 for the Jeffries rights, but Berger insisted on having $100,000.

The man who did the talking was a mutual friend of Rickard and Jeffries, and while he made no positive statement to that effect, it was understood that his mission was to secure from Jeffries a promise not to let the fight end too quickly.

Desires Are Intimated.

The picture people intimated that they would be glad to make a better proposition if they were assured the contest would last several rounds, but they did not make any out and out proposition to the Jeffries contingent which could be construed as a proposition or an offer.

But few people know of this incident and all of the parties concerned decline to discuss it. But it has had the effect of demonstrating that Jeffries is not altogether actuated by a desire for money in this fight, but that he really and truly wants to win and will try to win as quickly as possible.

The picture on the left is Johnson and Kaufman. The latter is trying with right for the head and left to the body. Johnson ducks the right blocks counter with his right. The right hand picture shows Jeffries punching the bag, the principal work he is doing now.

MINISTER BRANDS BIG JULY 4 FIGHT DISGRACE TO RENO

RENO, June 27.—Admitting that it was impossible to stop the Jeffries-Johnson prize fight and deploring the condition of the law that permitted such an exhibition in the city of Reno, Rev. L. M. Burwell of the Methodist church of Reno last night delivered a sermon on "Reno's disgrace" to 400 of his parishioners, replete with the most violent denunciation of the coming bout.

Reno was held up to be a godless wallow in the temple of immorality and the brutalizing effect of the fight itself with all the anticipated consequences from the influx of a horde of "riffraff of the country" and the obscuring of the country was pictured in lurid terms.

"Even California," he said, "notorious as she is for her crude standard of morals, rejected the fight, but Reno fell all over itself in its effort to land it."

Chicago Preacher Denounces Fight

CHICAGO, June 27.—Nevada was bitterly denounced last evening by Rev. John P. Boynton in the Lexington Avenue Baptist church for permitting the staging of the Jeffries-Johnson fight at Reno on Independence Day. His subject was "Nevada's Shame."

"It is Nevada's shame that she lacks men of brain and heart who could protect her against herself and make her name to blossom as the rose," said Boynton. "Her masters have taken a course that promises to keep Nevada an uninhabited desert for many years."

"There should be some way by which our nation could recall the charter of a state that has become a desert and a moral menace. Nevada has no right to remain a part of our nation with the full powers of a state. Nevada should become a territory and be governed from Washington in such fashion as to protect the rest of the Republic against the international shame that is now ours because of this monstrous evil of the prize fight."

"One such prize fight sets back our civilization many years."

New York Hegira To Reno Now On

NEW YORK, June 27.—The exodus of sporting men to Reno is now on. Large numbers of easterners left here today for the Jeffries-Johnson fighting ground, and by Wednesday all who intend to witness the championship mill will have departed.

Opinion still favors Jeffries, but there has been little betting, most of those intending to wager preferring to place their money at the ring side.

John E. Madden and Tom O'Rourke, two well known managers and trainers of pugilists, are strong in their opinions that Jeffries will win, while Joe Humphreys says he is rooting for Jeffries, but doubts whether he can do the trick.

JEFF WORKS FAST IN RING

Big Grizzly Takes on Sparring Partners and Mixes Up in Lively Shape.

RENO, June 27.—The last week of preparation for the Fourth of July struggle for supremacy between Jim Jeffries and Jack Johnson opened in Reno with a day of the excitement which marked the immediate predecessor. Such progress was made on the arena yesterday and today that completion in time for the fight is certain. Both fighters are in splendid trim and show no sign of the sudden change from sea level to a high altitude, and everything connected with the great sporting event is moving in a thoroughly satisfactory way.

JEFF BOXES FAST.

Swirling himself onto the boxing platform at Moana Springs north after 8 o'clock this morning, Jim Jeffries plunged into eleven rounds of boxing, boxing alternating with Chosenki, Corbett, Armstrong and Berger, and followed up with two rounds of tugging and hauling around the ring with P. J. Ryan. It was last night's work from start to finish and Jeffries kept increasing his pace until in the final round with Berger he was very close to a real fight. Jeffries did not take a moment's rest during the mile, yet he came out of it without a sign of fatigue.

JEFF ADDS TO SPEED.

Chosenki was the first man to mix it with the big fighter. Jeffries did not do any very lively work, Jeffries remarking he was not fully awake as yet. Corbett came next for me and things began to speed up. Berger mixed in for a round and then Armstrong, and at each change Jeffries added to his speed. In the last of his three rounds with Armstrong he sent his dusky rival to the floor with a powerful right. It was a clean knockdown and brought a round of laughter and applause from the camp followers.

In all Jeffries boxed the rounds with Chosenki, three with Berger, three with Armstrong and two with Corbett. The last round was with Berger and Jeffries attracted most attention. He was dancing about the ring like a schoolboy, insinuating that Sam was too tired to go another round. Berger resented it and retorted:

"I'll show you whether I can go another or not."

MIX IT HARD.

He dashed at Jeffries with a vigor that carried the big man back a step or two. Around the ring without a pause until the gong tapped. The boys then exchanged appeared not to be lacking in steam and the training after it was over, that Jeffries has done since he began getting into shape.

Jeffries' own statement for the rest of the day is round of gymnasium work late in the afternoon. The weather is quite warm and he is avoiding the working before the sun in the cool evening.

His early morning bout also enabled him to avoid the crowd of spectators.

Jeff Kept in Good Spirits by His Wife

(By EDDIE SMITH.)

RENO, June 27.—One of the pleasing features of the Jeffries camp is the modesty of the big fellow's wife and the other women at his camp. At their cottage gate a sign has been posted informing the inquisitive visitors that the grounds are private and one seldom sees Mrs. Jeffries away from home. She is as attentive to her husband as a mother would be to a sick child, and her amiable mannerisms and pleasing disposition have had much to do with keeping the champion in his good spirits. Nothing seems to bother her when it comes to making things comfortable for the gladiator and it can very truthfully be said that if Jeffries is to win the coming fight his wife will be entitled to a goodly share of the glory for the manner in which she has supported him through the details of his training that none other than a woman could.

who took to the camp later in the day, and this counts with Jeffries.

When the former champion retired to the rubbing room after the boxing Corbett and the others declared that he had worked enough for the day.

JEFF DOES ROAD WORK.

Johnson opened the last week of his training with an eight-mile run along the road. He moved rapidly, either trotting or keeping up a swift walk, and returned to camp appearing with perspiration on his face, but without any sign of fatigue.

As soon as he dressed, Johnson was whisked away to Reno in an automobile to meet Tex Rickard in a business conference, arrangements for which were made yesterday.

Rickard and Johnson were in conference at the former's hotel for almost an hour. Neither would say what the matter under discussion related to, further than it was a strictly business talk. After it was over Johnson hastened back to his camp, stating that he intended to work out in the middle of the afternoon because he wanted to take advantage of the weather "while it was hottest."

Tim Sullivan of New York, stakeholder of the fight, is expected to arrive today. Rickard has been in the city since he left New York, where he arrived just at the conclusion of the fight's morning training.

There was a cordial greeting between the two men.

JEFF'S CAMP ARRIVES.

Jack McAuliffe, former lightweight champion, came to town from Portland, Ore., on the early train.

Some confusion was caused early today when work upon the arena was brought to a stop by the failure of Rickard as soon as the plans were produced.

Tim Rickard stated today that the men would enter the ring sharply at 1:30 on the afternoon of July 4. The fight originally was scheduled for 2 p. m. but has been set forward in order to facilitate the exodus from Reno Monday afternoon.

Jeff Ends Training, but Will Spar for Next Four Days

Big Fellow Is Confident of Being Able to Go the Entire Forty-Five Rounds With Negro if Necessary

By EDDIE SMITH.

RENO, June 27.—Eddie Smith today says, regarding the present condition of the fighters:

"I have tried in every conceivable manner to find out what Jeffries weighs and if he has lost much weight since coming here. He has refused to weigh up to this time, and no one really knows just what he does tip the beam at. It is an admitted fact at the camp, however, that the big man is lighter by many pounds than he was at Rowdennan."

"Jeffries is in the best possible condition, and if he is not right at this time he never will be. Certainly he looks fit and his work is even more convincing than his looks."

"Johnson has lost some weight since coming here, and the dream of his life, the entering of the ring for this contest at 208 pounds, is a thing of the past, for he is already down to that figure, and will do well if he holds to the 200 pound mark."

TRIBUNE HEADQUARTERS, Reno, June 27.—James J. Jeffries has about finished his training for the big contest. This fact was made known to me Sunday morning when I landed at Moana Springs bright and early, after having been informed Saturday night that Jeffries intended to do some boxing before the crowd had reached the training camp.

The information had come from one of the camp attaches whom I had every reason to believe knew what he was talking about. With this information it was early to bed and early to rise, with the result that I was at the Jeffries camp at 7 o'clock. When I arrived the big fellow had unpacked his fishing outfit and was ready to start for a day's fishing.

Jeff Says He Is Now Fit.

When reminded of the fact that he had promised to work today, the undefeated boxer said: "I fully intended to work today, but you can see for yourself that it is very hot, even though it is early, and as I am feeling fine right now and have every reason to believe that I am just fit for the battle, both myself and my trainers think it best for me to take a lay-off. I have been warned against over training so many times that I am doing all in my power to maintain my present form. To work too much in this hot weather I feel it would be the height of folly, so from now on the work will be of the lightest kind—just enough to keep right."

Will Box for Next Four Days.

With this statement the big fellow was on his way for the river. From the trainers it was afterwards learned that Jeffries will box every day for the next four days and then lay the gloves away until ring time.

Most of the boxing from now to the day of quitting the gloves will be done with Bob Armstrong and Jack Jeffries. To the writer this looks to be the wisest move that the trainers and Jeffries could resort to. He is in the best possible condition that he can attain, and if he is no right at this time he never will be. Certainly he looks fit and his work is even more convincing than his looks.

Ready for Long Fight.

Once I told you, you will remember, I said that Jeffries is likely to make this a long fight. He finds it hard to light on his opponent. Well, Sam E. has again made this evident this morning when he informed me that Jeffries had said to him the night before that his impression people had that he would have to win quickly was a wrong one. Berger repeating the words of Jeffries, said: "Some people believe that I will have to put Johnson away in a few rounds or I will tire out. I think the longer this contest goes the better my chances. I really think that I should be a favorite in the betting, and if I should be a 10-to-1 first choice if the contest goes fifteen rounds."

Will Make the Pace.

"There is no chance in the world for Johnson to wear me down, for I will be able to set my own pace, and if I feel good I can rush and if I get a little tired I can lay off for a few rounds and rest up. Johnson does not know how to be the aggressor and he would fall all over himself trying to hit me if I wanted to keep away. I don't believe there is a chance in the world for this contest to go the full forty-five rounds, but if it did I would be the greatest surprise to the fans the game ever knew by finishing stronger than Johnson."

This statement does not mean that Jeffries intends to make a long battle of it, for as he continues to be preparing for a rushing battle in which he will down the negro as quickly as possible if fortune favors him. His trainers and seconds are continually talking to him about rushing right in and carrying Johnson by storm.

Only Medium Hitter.

They point out to him that Johnson is not the hitter to put him down and the record of the colored man has been continually gone over to prove that his fighting power is only what it is rated to be of the medium quality. After having run the gamut of all the hard hitters of his time, Jeffries is also convinced that Johnson is not the man to be the first

NEW MEMBER OF TAPE.

Johnny was admitted by Kaituma Dave Mills, one of the new hand around his own tape. The big snake of a brown, with him his wife and a brown, and then the champ of the topes and bear a little tattoo on the

While telling the strange legends he gained over his first and second, he was going to his tape, somehow or other. Just at a minute and I'll bring him in a snake is possible. A very slow and I'll be a good time. There are shadow boxing on the during he came. When the saw at broke on the champion's brow, I noticed that the champion was a good were a dined and I'll be a good gaily red paintment look like the corner

For so was spent in adjusting the ball and then the champion topped it and beat a lovely trot on the green.

While waiting the referee leaped and he gunned over his shoulder and remarked: "I'm going to hit the same old or other. Just wait a minute and I'll bring him in a second as possible." A puffing swing and a had mind. Good. Then came a bit of snort, boxing on the bar, and the champion. When the swing broke on the ground without breaking the ball was tossed into the air. The referee was dinned and Al Kaufman's gaily red regiment looked a little bit longer.

The first round went rather awful. Kaufman continually rushing the champion who smiled with pleasure as he blocked every move seemingly without breaking the ball. He went to his corner, but Burns called time pretty quickly.

er so was spent in adjusting the blades and then the champion stepped up and beat a lovely tattoo on the champion's chest.

While the referee was leaning over he gunned over his shoulder and remarked: "I'm going to hit the somebody or other. Just wait a minute and I'll bring him in a good one. It's possible he may say and I'll have him mad." And then came a big snort boxing on the champion's canvas. When the snort broke out on the champion's brow, the referee's hand was raised and the champion were dinned and Al Kaufman gaily reprimanded looking at the corner.

The first round went rather successfully. Kaufman's strategy was to punch the champion who snail with pleasure to his feet before any move seemingly without effort. Kaufman turned to his corner after Professor Burns called time out for a double.

VERNON AND SEALS BREAK EVEN IN DOUBLE-HEADER

Happicus Hogan Plays Rank Ball as Before, and Ewing's Men Have No Trouble Winning

VERNON played something like baseball yesterday at Freeman Park and won the morning game from the Seals by a score of 2 to 1. In the afternoon they did not play anything like baseball and the game was expected score of 14 to 0. Carson did the hurling in the before-lunch affair and performed his work well, allowing the Seals but five hits and fanning five. Miller was the pitcher in the afternoon and he also pitched good ball but there seems to be flunks following the lad.

The afternoon contest opened with every sat in the grandstand and bleachers filled with several hundred fans centered around the field. "Handy Andy" Stewart was the pitcher for the Seals and he pitched a fine game. Ewing to hurl for the Seals, while Willets starred for the Vermontes. Stewart handled himself in a manner that was highly commendable, while the team batted in a manner that was equally commendable. Willets worked like a Trojan for two innings and a part of the third and then he slowed down and no one can blame him for the support he rendered being tired. The Seals' pitcher, Ewing, was simply disgraceful. He could not hold the ball, he could not throw the ball and he could not see the ball, and it was to his bush league catching that the Seals were able to win. Many a time, though it is true that they pounded Willets hard. Still, if Hogan had shown the least compassion for his pitcher he would have retired him right off the reel and the Seals would have won the game without knocking Hogan in. He is the worst catcher that ever stood behind a batter.

It was in the third that the Seals caught their first bunch of runs. After Stewart had pitched two innings and Hogan had pitched the second, Monier fanned but Bodie singled. The hit was a short one and Carlisle held Vitt at third. Bodie started for second and was out a block if Hogan had not. Then came Tennant and he fanned. Then came Stewart and he fanned. This gave them a total of fourteen runs to the Mountaineers none a record shut-out for the season. Following is the score:

Locals Pass Into Third Place by Disastrous String of De- feats in South.

LOS ANGELES, June 27. — Oakland again met defeat in the hands of the home team here yesterday. In the morning Dillon's men triumphed by a score of seven to five and in the afternoon by a score of four to one.

Klein opened the morning contest for the Angels and might have been a victim of the Oaks if he had not been canned last night for his O.C.s at dangerous distance.

In the afternoon the Oaks strangled Mosser, got bumped good and hard and had to retire after eight hits had been made from his delivery. Oakland left the place with Soule as starter of the ninth game.

OAKLAND WILL TRY TO REGAIN LOST GROUND

Disastrous Week at Los Angeles a Blow to Team's Pennant Chances; Gossip of the Players

Oakland returns to San Francisco Thursday next away with their work as well as they did last week there will be no complaints, that is none worth paying attention to. The fact that some one who will ever find fault no matter how good things go, but they are not counted.

Young Oscar's hitting has been like a weathered ball. He has proved his percentage in that line great deal being fleet of foot and agile. His batting average is .300. His swinging start makes him a dangerous man at all times on the bats. This fact was shown by his hitting three home runs and scored three runs just because he used his noodle and ran well.

Mr. Maddox, the Seal's new outfielder, broke into the game at Freeman's formation. He hit a home run off the bat for Miller in the eighth inning. If this man lives up to the rep he brought with him he may make a big thing for himself. Keep up their present gate, San Francisco will have an outflow of visitors that won't leave an equal anywhere in the country.

Manner Harry Wolverton has broken down in the game. He pitched very hard after noon. This ought to be a good help to the Oaks, for with his brains in the game he can do anything. If he stays in the team will play better ball. Should San Francisco take a majority of the games it will be because of Harry's boast that they will, then it will be good plight to the pennant hopes of the Oaks. It would be a pity if they were able to regain the ground lost.

Pitcher Harry Steward of the Seals is proving his worth each day, and those knockers who wanted him cannot argue against him. He is true he does not look very good for a time. Steward has been given work and this has had much to do with bringing out his true worth.

Both Tennant and Carlisle landed on a full back slide, but both happened to be fools. They were running against the hotel on the corner and a crowd of a kindred Carlisle's mind went clear over the sliding.

It was Catcher Thomas that stepped up the Beaver-Seals game at Sacramento with a wild hare past first base. He thought the Seals should not get too severe on the force. He was wrong and looks like a fool that will later on deliver his goods.

McRindle and his blind men are nut

McIntosh Has the Wrestling Fever Too

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, Jan. 27.—In an interview today Dr. Rolfe stated that Hugh McIntosh of Australia had guaranteed him $7000 to wrestle with Hackenschmidt for the championship of the world, as Frank Gotch has signified his intention of retiring. The match will take place in December in Australia.

FRANK BODIE DID SOME REMARKABLE
HITTING LAST WEEK

Frank Bodie, the left fielder of the San Francisco ball team, last week established a hitting record that will cause the fans to talk for some little time to come. Going to the field for the first time in the ball safely for fifteen hits. Three of these were home run drives, not weak, puny little over the right field fence, but the big ones, drives that would have been home runs even had there been no fences. Four times he landed in the grand slam, and he has a few more of foot might have been so out-served infield hits.

A remarkable feature of all this hitting has been the great benefit it has brought to the team, for one might say that it was his hitting that secured the present success of the team through out the season. Truly, Bodie is a mighty slugger and has hit the ball in a way that has paved the way for many of the big league players for him to succeed.

doing a whole lot of high-grade ball playing these days and will not be considered a pennant possibility unless he does. A loss of a series to Vernon and an over-breaker with the Giants.

Little Jimmy Shinn showed a vast improvement in his hitting since he returned to the game. Yesterday Garrett, who had hit only one home run in 1914, and Jimmy gathered in three of those.

Outfielder Curran, the star from Dupdale's dev'g grass league, has been picked on the bench for a spell. Coming here as a hitter, he has shown no real aptitude in the field, and has been in one-half as well as Frank Carroll has been doing.

The game tomorrow will be the opening of the season for the Athletics in San Francisco. Dwing thinks he will win the home for the Seals, while Oakland will be looking for a way to bring home the long end of the score.

Jimmy Smith, who played brilliant ball with the Oakland team a few seasons back is trying hard to get back to his old position. He has been playing well, but the youngster He hits the ball well enough, but somehow a fielder is always needed to catch his ball. He knows where he is there and can still win the round the diamond when necessary.

HANS WAGNER NOT HITTING.

HANS WAGNER will have to bat at the rate of 400 for the remainder of the season if he wants to get into the Ty Cobb class. He has been hitting home runs at the rate of 100 a year, but he is not hitting. Hans is picking up his bat for the first time in 1915, and he is expected to be in the 300 division by July at least. The trust is not yet out of that eye and arm of his, prob-

THIRTY CHINESE IN FAN TAN GAME

Flying Squadron Corralled Celestials for Gambling.

Engaged in the gentle game of fan tan, thirty-one sons of the Dragon Kingdom were discovered in Oakland's Chinatown yesterday by Sergeant Walters and Sergeant. The Chinese were all seized at the approach of danger, and the two policemen were somewhat in doubt of their ability to negotiate the arrest of the entire outfit. The difficulty was solved by the passage at that moment of the "flying squadron." Officers Keefe, Flynn and Tobin.

KAPP IN FLIGHT TO AVOID SERVICE

Summons Officers Seek to Notify Real Estate Man of Divorce.

James F. Kapp, a real estate man, who, up to a recent date, had an office in room 905 of the First National Bank building, has within the past few days disappeared from his usual haunts for the purpose of avoiding the summons of his wife, who is alleged to be suing for divorce. Kapp is a well-known figure in the city, and his disappearance has caused much speculation. He is believed to have fled to avoid the service of a divorce summons filed by his wife, Mrs. Kapp.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Ambassador Bryce and Secretary Knox are expected to sign a treaty today. The treaty is believed to be one of the most important in the history of the United States, and its signing will mark a significant step in the development of international relations.

Engineer Missing; Friend Fears Injury

Abraham J. Bell, an engineer residing at 917 Jefferson street, has been missing since Saturday, when he failed to return from work. His friend, who is a close associate of Bell, has expressed deep concern for his safety and is actively searching for him. Bell is a well-known figure in the engineering community, and his disappearance has caused much worry among his friends and colleagues.

MAYOR WILL WRITE NAME 1760 TIMES TO SIGN ALL BONDS

The lengthy task of affixing his signature 1760 times to as many $1000 bonds was commenced by Mayor Frank R. Mott this morning on the first batch of the municipal bonds for the new city hall and the harbor improvements. From the rate at which he signed this morning and the number of interruptions during his task, it is thought that it will take him at least two days more to complete the job. The bonds were placed in the mayor's hands this morning. Before they can be delivered to the purchasers, they must be signed by the mayor, city clerk, treasurer, making 5280 signatures in all, or about a mile of writing.

BLACK AND WHITE CHAMPIONS ARE BOTH CONFIDENT OF WINNING BATTLE

John Sullivan and Jeffries making up. Otto Floto, the sporting writer, who helps patch up the trouble, is seen on the right.

Training Practically Suspended and Gladiators Eagerly Await the Bell, Which Will Send Them at Each Other for the Greatest Fight of the Century to put him down. It has been pointed out to him that Tommy Burns staved 14 rounds with the champion and did all the boxing through it the contest. Jim Flynn staved 11 rounds, and also did most of the boxing. Marvin Hart staved 20 rounds, and Knutson 10 rounds, and Stanley Mitchell 12 rounds. Jeffries and his trainers are of the opinion that the big white man could have polished all these men off in the time it took Johnson to beat Burns, and for that reason they are very confident that their man will prove too tough to be put down by Johnson. Jeffries, however, is not letting any one in on his plan of battle, if he has one, and he is replying to the question by the writer to answer that the contest itself would determine how he would fight. With the contest just one week off the big white man has not yet shown any signs of worry over the result.

Jeff Conceals Weight.

I have tried in every conceivable manner to find out what Jeffries weighs, and he has lost much weight since coming here, but he has refused to weigh up to this time and no one really knows just what he does tip the beam at. It is an admitted fact at the camp, however, that the big man is the lighter by many pounds than he was at Rowdondan.

Loses Some Weight.

Johnson has lost some weight since coming here and the dread of his life, entering the ring for this contest at 208 pounds, is a thing of the past, for he is already down to that figure and will do all right if he holds to the 200-pound mark. During the evening the trainers from both camps came into town, and last evening Bob Armstrong created quite a sensation at one of the colored resorts in town by declaring that the colored men were betting on Johnson because they believed it was the right thing to do because he was of their color. Bob maintained that on the day of the contest he would be on the job, betting all sorts of money, and that he would be ready to take any and all the bets of Reno when he started. Armstrong's argument was as strongly in favor of Jeffries as Billy Bryan can for his favorite lobby.

Negro Seems Confident.

The negro seems to be in good spirits, although at times he locks himself up in his room and will not see any one. It is said that Johnson does as he says, sleeps during these times, but to me it

FLANDERS DOES 3 STATES IN ONE DAY

"Under Three Flags" Car Makes Fine Time Over Bad Prairie Roads.

VINITA (Okla.), June 25.—The route of the "Under Three Flags" car, including sixty miles of Missouri, cutting off a corner of Kansas and heading southward and westward through Oklahoma to this point. The route comprised several fine stretches, built up with the shale from the coal mines, but the last thirty miles were entirely over prairie, through creeks and over pasture land, where wire gates had to be frequently opened and closed. The car is expected to follow the route of the "Katy" from this city through the State today. The trip is a most unusual feature, aside from the continued remarkable record of the car and three.

Saloonkeeper Beaten by Pair of Hoodlums

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—In a melee that finally resolved itself into a small riot at Chenery's saloon, a saloonkeeper of a saloon on the corner, was today beaten and two men were arrested by police. The saloonkeeper, who was named Strauss, was beaten and two men were arrested by police. The saloonkeeper, who was named Strauss, was beaten and two men were arrested by police.

Rattlesnake Skins as Hunting Trophies

BERKELEY, June 27.—Bearing two large rattlesnake skins as trophies of his vacation sport, Sergeant Clarence Lee of the Berkeley police department returned yesterday from a two weeks' hunting trip in the Coast Range, near St. Helena. One of the snake skins is extraordinarily large, measuring eight feet from tip to tip, and having seven rattles. Lee had the most successful hunt, bringing back with him the skins of small game in good country. He returned to his duties this morning.

MAGILL WILL COLLECT ALAMEDA COUNTY FACTS

Supervisors Appoint Statistician to Gather Data on Industrial, Horticultural and Agricultural Industries

At a meeting of the Board of Supervisors this morning, Harry E. Magill was appointed county statistician to collect facts regarding the industrial, horticultural, agricultural and live stock interests of Alameda county for the year 1914, at a salary of $200 per month. The total cost of making the compilation is not to exceed $5000. Magill's appointment is to go into effect July 1st. The assistants to the statistician are to be appointed only with the consent of the Board of Supervisors. The resolution was adopted by the votes of Supervisors Bridge, Mullins, Kelley and Horner. Potts voted in the negative on the ground that he did not think the appointment of Magill should go into effect until September 1st, instead of July 1st. The application for relief of Martin May of Pleasanton was referred to Supervisor Horner. A communication was received from the city clerk of Oakland asking the view of the members of the board as to the advisability of passing in this county a license tax for motorcycles, which would operate in this and adjoining counties. An informal discussion of the proposition by the supervisors, while not in session, was to the effect that such a remedy could be afforded only by a State law.

LOAN BALLOT BOXES.

The request of the Oakland City Council for loan of 65 ballot boxes for the coming election was granted. The contract for the grading of Spruce street was awarded to W. J. Schmidt, the only bidder, whose proposal was 35 cents per cubic yard. The work requires the removal of 2500 cubic yards of earth. P. M. Nolan was appointed stenographer to County Statistician Magill at a salary of $100 per month. P. M. Fisher and C. L. Biedenbach were appointed members of the county board of education for two years from July 1st next.

MASKED ROBBERS HOLD UP SALOON

Two Crooks Secure Box of Cigars and $20 in Coin for Their Trouble.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—"Hands up," cried one of two masked robbers who boldly pushed open the swinging doors in the saloon of Paul Tarich, Fremont and Brannan streets, late last night, and snatched a box of cigars and $20 in cash from the bartender. Several customers had left the place just a moment before and the desperadoes had evidently been waiting for an opportune moment to perpetrate the holdup. Ellich was about to grab a pistol, which was concealed beneath the bar, but concluded it was safer to make an effort to escape a scuffle with the land. The thugs compelled him to turn his face to the wall while they broke open the cash register. It contained only $20, and disappeared at the first sound of the alarm. The robbers took a full box of cigars, warned Ellich to keep quiet and hurriedly left the saloon. The police were notified, but have thus far been unable to locate the robbers.

VICTIM OF BUNCO MEN GETS MONEY

Man Fleeced by Fake Pool Room Gang Is Returned Coin Stolen.

SAN RAFAEL, June 27.—Robert N. Wood, the Selma farmer, late last night, recovered his money today through Mrs. Frank McSherry, who received the money from Sheriff Taylor by order of Superior Judge Lennon. When the raid took place Sheriff Taylor secured $174, which he has had in his keeping since. When Frank McSherry was sent to San Quentin to serve a year's sentence for his part in the fake pool rooms, he promised to reimburse Wood. Joseph Abbott, the confessed bunco man, also agreed to pay back the money to the farmer boy. Mrs. McSherry, acting for both men, received the money today, and left the $800, which Sheriff Taylor gave to Wood.

Wants Water Plant for Road Sprinkling

At a meeting of the supervisors, this morning, at the instance of Supervisor Horner, the county surveyor was instructed to prepare an estimate of the cost of installing a water plant on the Folsom road, in Marry Township, leaving from Livermore to the Townsend school, for the purpose of sprinkling the thoroughfare. The motion was inspired by a petition signed by a number of leading citizens of the vicinity, among them being Louis McFadden, James Gallagher, L. C. Cull, Harvey Hall, James Concoman, Samuel O'Farrell, Captain J. H. Brown, Patrick Connolly, A. E. Winiger, and others. Supervisor Horner said that the request had been made some months ago and there was no doubt but that the road should be sprinkled. The county surveyor will report at the meeting one week from Monday next.

NUDE PROPHETESS STARTS NEW CULT

Colored Woman, Innocent of Garments, Rushes Through Streets Seeking Converts

Rushing into the street, nude as on the day she was born Mrs. D. Taylor, a colored woman residing at 2336 Magnolia street, commenced the incantation of a new faith this morning. She called out to the passers-by that she was a prophetess, and that one of the first conditions of thorough and absolute salvation was to go garmentless. The neighborhood was alarmed and shocked at the antics of the seeress, and there was a scurrying for doorways to avoid the promised salvation. Waving her arms to the tune of a new hymn and swaying her body from side to side in a Salome rhythm Mrs. Taylor danced her way down the street to the horrified amazement of pedestrians. It was not long before the police were informed by a dozen calls of the new faith that had broken forth unadorned, and Policeman Green was detailed to go out and suppress the revival of Eden's culture as expressed by the dark-skinned seeress. With some difficulty he succeeded in wrapping his ward in a blanket and had her taken to the receiving hospital, where she was changed with insanity. Mrs. Taylor has never been afflicted with the desire to inculcate a new religion before. She is the wife of a cook of the Pullman dining-car of the Sunset Limited, and her husband is now in the southern part of the State.

Old-Time Sporting Man Going to Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Among the notices at the ring-side at Reno when Jeffries and Johnson battle will be Ben Hogan of Chicago. The ordinary present day sporting man, who has not read about the familiar characters connected with the royal arena of other days, will not be able to place Hogan. Hogan is a veteran. He is one of the few of the old guard who are left, and while he has not fought in the ring for some time, he is still in the running. He came out from Chicago to see the big scrap. Hogan was identified with Jim Macoy when the latter was in the heyday of his career. Hogan brought Macoy over to this country and piloted him about on his successful career. Hogan has been in this city for the last few days, but will leave in a day or two for Reno. He is one of the many who figure Jeffries to come back and look for him to beat the negro.

IN BUCALYPTUS LANDS.
Unsurpassed opportunity to secure a large acreage of eucalyptus in Mammoth Santa Maria Valley, where the soil and its proximity to the ocean make ideal conditions for the growth of these trees.

First year you plant the trees, the second year you pay one-fourth of the cost. After the third year you pay one-third on each acre of the land and one-third on the trees. The price of the land is limited to a few hundred dollars in quantity and first come first served. A snap like this has never before been offered in California.

On the ground floor and secure a lot worth while for little money. Call 412.

HOME DESIGNS
100 beautiful designs of cottages, bungalows, etc., to select from. If you build write for these plans. We cost you nothing. Special designs for 1000 to 1500. Call 412.

POLICEMAN KEEFE BALKS AT PARROT.

Rescues Mrs. Daniels' Lost
Pet, But Nearly Loses a Finger in the Melee.

"The next time any citizen of this city makes a demand on the police department to furnish a policeman for the purpose of regaining a parrot, lost, strayed or stolen, some other officer must be detailed to the duty or I resign."

Thus said, Policeman Con Keefe this morning. Keefe spoke rather indistinctly, for as he talked he held on finger in his mouth, a finger that had been pierced.

Here's an advertisement well worth reading

They're imitating Kryptoks the far and near lenses.

Any one good enough to imitate a good enough to investigate.

Will find the imitations designated as just as good as Kryptoks—better than Kryptoks—Improved Kryptoks etc.

Some are positively harmful, some are not. Expensive and less effective and some are so deceptive in appearance that they make the wearer has no means of knowing that he has an imitation until his eyes have suffered a serious strain and set back.

Nobody wants an imitation of anything. The way to get genuine Kryptoks is to come to us direct.
